BYLAWS

TEXAS OPHTHALMOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION
As Amended April 28, 2007

ARTICLE I.  MEMBERSHIP

Section 1.  Membership in the Association shall be open to physicians practicing ophthalmology in Texas who hold a valid license to practice medicine issued by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, under the following classifications.  Annual dues shall be as specified in Article VIII, Section 1, of these Bylaws.

A.  Provisional Members:  These shall be duly licensed physicians practicing ophthalmology in Texas, who have either been certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology, or who have practiced ophthalmology for not less than three years, (which may include an approved three year ophthalmology residency training period, or its equivalent, as determined by the Executive Council of the Association).  They may be considered for elevation by the Executive Council to Regular membership after a one-year period of provisional membership.  They shall be eligible to vote, attend meetings, and receive regular mailings.  They shall not be eligible to hold office.

B.  Regular Members:  After one year, Provisional members may be considered by the Executive Council for elevation to Regular members.  Regular members shall be duly licensed physicians practicing ophthalmology in Texas, who have either been certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology, or who have practiced ophthalmology for not less than four years, (which shall include an approved three year ophthalmology residency training period, or its equivalent, as determined by the Executive Council of the Association).  They shall have all the privileges of full membership, including the right to vote, hold office, attend scientific sessions, and receive regular correspondence from the officers regarding the activities of the Association.

C.  Senior Associate Members:  These shall be current Regular members of the Texas Ophthalmological Association, who through reason of age or disability have become relatively inactive in the practice of medicine and do not wish to continue as Regular members, but who still wish to participate in the scientific and educational aspects of the Association. They may attend meetings and receive mailings. They shall not vote or hold office.

D.  Military Members:  These shall be physicians serving the Armed Forces of the United States of America in the State of Texas, who practice ophthalmology. Texas licensure shall not be required.  They shall be eligible to attend scientific meetings and receive mailings. They shall not be able to vote or hold office.

E.  Resident Members:  These shall be physicians who are enrolled in approved ophthalmology residency training programs in the State of Texas. They shall be eligible to attend scientific meetings and receive mailings. They shall not be eligible to vote or to hold office.

F.  Emeritus Members:  Current Regular members of the Association who, because of age or any other good and sufficient reason, have withdrawn from the active practice of medicine, may be designated by the Executive Council as Emeritus members of the Texas Ophthalmological Association.  An Emeritus member shall retain his membership even though his residence may change. If his practice of medicine is resumed, this classification of membership is automatically terminated.  Emeritus members shall not have the right to vote, hold office, but may attend meetings and receive mailings.

G.  Honorary Members:  These shall consist of those individuals who have supported materially and significantly the practice of ophthalmology in this State and who are approved unanimously by the Executive Council for election to this classification of membership.  Candidates for election to this classification need not be physicians nor residents of the State of Texas. They shall enjoy all the privileges of membership except that of voting and holding elective office.

H.  Out-of-State Members:  These shall be physicians practicing ophthalmology in another state or foreign country, who have either been certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology, or who have practiced ophthalmology for at least three years (which shall include an approved three year ophthalmology residency training period, or its equivalent, as determined by the Executive Council of the Association).  Texas licensure shall not be required.  They shall be eligible to attend scientific meetings and receive mailings. They shall not be able to vote or hold office in the Association.

Section 2.  Candidates for Regular, Provisional, Military, and Resident membership shall complete the application form supplied by the Secretary, and forward the completed form to the Secretary.  Acceptance of candidates will be determined by the Executive Council.  Upon acceptance, the Secretary shall notify the applicant of his acceptance and request forwarding of the appropriate dues of his approved category of membership within 90 days of notification.

Section 3.  Regular members desiring to become Emeritus or Senior Associate members may do so by petitioning the Secretary or Treasurer for one of these categories.  It shall be the responsibility of the petitioner to set forth that he is either fully retired from the active practice of medicine to qualify for Emeritus membership, or has severely restricted his regular office practice and/or surgical practice from a full time schedule and is on a limited, less than full time, medical practice schedule.  This request will ordinarily be undertaken at the time of receipt of his annual dues statement from the Treasurer.  The Executive Council shall have the authority to approve or disapprove each request for transfer to these classifications of membership on its individual merit.
